

How to donate Personal Protective Equipment in the coronavirus crisis

Urgently needed for health care workers and others in the front line: unopened and unused respirator masks (medical grade preferred) or industrial, NIOSH- and FDA-approved; PAPRs (powered air-purifying respirators); non-latex gloves in original carton; face shields; safety goggles (no openings on sides); Tyvek coveralls; disposable head and shoe covers; isolation gowns; disposable water resistant cover gowns in original carton; infrared (non-contact or remote) thermometers; unopened hand sanitizer bottles; and boxes of disinfecting wipes such as Clorox or Sani-cloth.

The following state and local web sites are organizing donations: Your Supplies Save Lives WA; City of Seattle Protective Equipment Donation Site; and Seattle Mask Brigade. For use in health care and in supportive housing and shelters across the city, the Kelley Ross Pharmacy (located in Seattle's Eastlake neighborhood) is accepting donated items in its building's lobby; please make advance contact: 206-441-9174 or to roftebro@kelley-ross.com.
